The lawyers at Stepp & Sullivan are licensed to practice law in the State of Texas. While we are licensed in Texas, with our clients' consent and approval, we enter into relationships with lawyers throughout the United States who are licensed in those states where we are not in order to provide our clients the representation they deserve. At times, with the clients' consent and approval, Stepp & Sullivan may refer clients to other experienced and knowledgeable lawyers, in the clients' geographical area, but, during these instances, Stepp & Sullivan will remain involved and engaged in the matter. Because each state's laws are different, and the rules regarding attorneys are not uniform among the different states, the information we provide on this site is general in nature, and is not a specific rule or law applicable to any specific state.

Stepp & Sullivan, in producing this web site, has attempted to ensure that the site is in compliance with the applicable rules to which lawyers in Texas are subject to, but, because the web site is accessible by clients and potential clients in jurisdictions across the United States, we set out below, advisories which we believe are required by specific states where this website could be viewed. Stepp & Sullivan's designated main office, responsible for this web site, is located at the following address: Stepp & Sullivan, PC, 5300 Memorial Dr., #620, Houston, TX 77007. It is our intent to only represent clients who, after their review of this site, if the site is in compliance with the local rules and regulations governing it.
